A motion was unanimously carried that a badge of the Richmond Chapter be presented to Mrs. Jacob Van Doren, of Albemarle, in recognition of the splendid work done by her for the Virginia Daughters, and in memory of her illustrious father, Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury.

An honored visitor at Wednesday's meeting was Mrs. James Halsey, of Philadelphia, founder of the General Dabney Maury Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, of that city.

RIGHT HON. HERBERT H. ASQUITH, LIBERAL PREMIER OF ENGLAND.
Mrs. Asquith, the second wife of the English Premier. She was Miss Margaret Tennant, and is a woman of much decisive character.

Eccentricities on Both Sides Said to Be Cause of the Reported Estrangement.

London, March 10.—The report that Prince Minister Herbert Asquith and his wife are to seek "judicial separation" is no longer a mere rumour, but has become a favorite conversational topic in London society.

While the news of an actual break came as a surprise to many, it has long been known that the Asquiths did not live happily together. Many thought that for reasons of policy they would not invite the publicity of court proceedings.

It is now almost certain that Mr. Asquith will resign the leadership of the Liberal party and retire as prime minister. He will be made a peer by King Edward, if the present program is carried out, and find a scope for his ability in other channels.

Within two weeks the premier is said to have offered King Edward by appearing before him too often after having lunched well but not wisely. He came to ask a pledge from the King that he would sustain the government's hand in the matter of abolishing the vote in the House of Lords.

"I will give you no pledge," said the King tartly, "but I advise you, sir, to take care."

The very fact that Asquith is to be made a peer is likely to delay the legal steps toward a separation. Mrs. Asquith is indirectly too ambitious to lose the opportunity of becoming a peeress. She has left for the Continent, and the report is that during her absence the first move for a separation will be made.

Many things contributed to the domestic unhappiness of the Asquiths. Matters have reached such an acute stage that no wonder does the premier arrive at the official residence than the wife packs her trunks and leaves for the country.

Mrs. Asquith's eccentricities and want of tact are offset by Mr. Asquith's irritability and increasing quest for stimulation. The great ladies of the Liberal party attend official functions at the house on Downing Street, but they do not call informally on Mrs. Asquith. Her call there has been rare from experience that she takes no pains to conceal her boredom when she is not with her small and equally eccentric son.

The wife's friendship for Maud Allan, the dancer, has been the cause of more than one family squabble. Miss Allan has a great influence over the premier, and she has had her social support despite a circle of frowns.

OPPOSITION TO "RING."
Fight Will Be Made on Administration Forces in Norfolk.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., March 10.—Political gossip is already stirring among the leaders of the various wards of the city, and it is expected that the present administration forces, known as the "ring," will have strong opposition.

That there is little hope of doing more than making inroads into their strength is also admitted.

From an unbiased viewpoint there seems to be little or no danger of the "ring" being turned out at the coming election or their power seriously impaired.

With the First, Second and Fourth absolutely sure to them, with every indication that they have the Third and Sixth and a better fighting chance than any opposition in the other wards, the administration seems safely entrenched.

This year a member of the Council from each ward and two Controllers are due to be elected. That the opposition will devote its efforts to the election of a Controller is admitted by the leaders, but the administration is confident of taking care of these men.

WILL NOT TRY TO RAISE LICENSES
Tax on Saloons in Petersburg Will Probably Remain as It Is.

MRS. CAROLINE EANES DEAD
To Enlarge Scope of Fair to Be Held During Fall.

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
102 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., March 10.

So far as known, no effort will be made by the anti-saloon forces to have liquor licenses in Petersburg increased the coming year. The retail license to sell liquor is now $250, and there are thirty-two saloons in the city, an average of about one saloon to every 1,000 inhabitants.

Death of Mrs. Eanes.
Mrs. Caroline Epps Eanes, of Petersburg, and a Democratic leader in the exciting political days of the past, died yesterday at her home on Grove Avenue this morning about 4 o'clock.

She had passed the age of four-score years, beloved and respected by all who knew her. Her long life was spent in Petersburg and she was known to a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Eanes was the mother of George Eanes, for some years City Sergeant of Petersburg, and a Democratic leader in the exciting political days of the past. She was also the mother of Captain Henderson Eanes, who was for years Chief of Police of the city. She is survived by one son, Detective David P. Eanes, of the police force, and leaves a number of grand and great-grandchildren.

Personal and Otherwise.
Moses R. Saal, a former prominent merchant of Petersburg, but for several years past a resident of New Orleans, has been in the city several days greeting old friends.

The Wednesday Music Club had a pleasant "open day" meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Rosa Heath, on Market Street. The piano selections were from Liszt, and the vocalists sang folk songs. A number of guests were present.

At a meeting of Petersburg Council, Knights of Columbus, last night, James H. Bailey and F. M. D'Alton were elected delegates to the State convention to be held in Richmond on May 12.

The fair to be held in Petersburg next fall will embrace twelve counties in its territory, instead of three, as was the case in the agricultural exhibit of last fall. And it is designed to make it an educational fair.

Jack Myers, youngest son of Nannie C. Myers, and employed at the store of the Stockell-Myers Hardware Company, is a patient at the Petersburg Hospital, threatened with blood poisoning. He accidentally struck a nail in his hand last Sunday, and trouble has extended to the arm.

The Commissioners of Election to-day canvassed the vote cast Tuesday in the special election on Congressmen from this district. Bert Turnbull received all of the votes polled in Petersburg. No returns have been received here from the other counties in the district, but vote was very light everywhere.

Rev. David Klein, rabbi of the U. S. Street Synagogue, in this city, delivered the address at the Eagles' moral exercises on March 27, Stein's Orchestra, of Richmond, furnish the instrumental music.

SAFE IN BUENOS AYRES.
Captain and Crew of Schooner Edgar How at Last Heard From.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., March 10.—Capt. Reuben Quillen, master, and the crew of the schooner Edgar C. Ross, last stranded at Buenos Ayres, 100 miles from the United States, are reported to return to the United States as soon as they can secure passage.

This news came in a brief cable from Captain Quillen to his family, Lewis, Del., and is true beyond question. The master does not say how he reached Buenos Ayres, but the men say it is safe to say that he and his crew were taken off the schooner by some sailing vessel which landed them at the South American port.

It is almost as though these men had risen from the dead. Their schooner was wrecked in the storm of last summer, and subsequently was abandoned, with no one aboard. The men had been taken off, but proved to be the families and friends of mariners had almost abandoned it when that same report came that an Italian steamer, which reported sighting the Ross, also reported from signs aboard her the crew appeared to have been taken off the passing vessel.

The news of the safe arrival of these men at Buenos Ayres was made in the marine district here to-day. Captain Quillen's family have many friends hereabouts.
